Louis Lange's Southern Hoopsk of 277 Main street, the store formerly ecupied by J. G. Watkins. This is so entral that the ladies are using the opportunity of supplying themselves with those reliable corsets which can e found only at Lange's.

The new store of the well-known Jet Paljewelry man Isadore Roescher, at No. 233 Main street, presents a most attract ve appearance, the goods being arrang with taste. The stock of watches and fan rices asked are exceedingly moderate. The now windows of the store attract general at ntion, and crowds of people surround it ily and nightly. Among the novelties and curiosities is a clock, a clever piece of mechanism, a golden ball rolling in angles eeping the seconds of time.

Spring and Summer Hats. An attractive stock of hats can be found t the store of Martin Cohen, No. 219 Main orner of Adams street. The stock includes ill the novelties of the spring and summer pay your money and get value re-ceived for it. Every pains will be taken to give each person full satisfaction. Those first coming will be first served, and all orders ensons for men and boys. These goods car be purchased at the very lowest prices, much lower than can be afforded by any other dealer in the city. Mr. Cohen receives large additions to his stock weekly, so as to enable him to meet the wants of his numerous cus Johnston & Vance. The leaders in styles in Gents' Clothing and Furnishing Goods, have received their spring Stock, which in elegance and variety excels anything ever before presented to the Memphis public. Their facilities are unsur-
